PREFACE

Introduction

Recent adverse winter weather in March 2018 (and also in December 2010) incapacitated parts of Kirton in Lindsey. During June and July 2016 many parts of the United Kingdom including our town suffered serious flooding following a period of unprecedented rainfall. These are some examples of emergencies this plan can help assist with.

In December 2007, Sir Michael Pitt published an interim report on the lessons learned from the floods.

‘So responsibility does not lie with Government or other authorities and organisations alone. The response to a major emergency is stronger if all parties work together, including communities and individuals. In major emergencies where responders are severely stretched, community resilience has an important part to play, both before, during and after the event. In preparing for an emergency, communities have an important shared local knowledge – for example, the location of doctors, vulnerable people and temporary shelter and where useful equipment is stored.’

(Learning lessons from the 2007 floods. An independent review by Sir Michael Pitt. Paragraph 7.34, page 122).

This plan is written to ensure our community is prepared to respond to any such future events or major emergency, regardless of the cause.

SECTION 2: KEY ACTIONS

IMPORTANT: This emergency plan will help mitigate the effects of local major or minor incidents but it is important to remember there are still some overriding factors for the Community Emergency Team to consider.

Laws and regulations still apply during an emergency; so things like health and safety, speed restrictions, insurance, food hygiene and data protection must still be properly observed.

No one should carry out any tasks or activities that they are not properly trained and qualified to do, and under no circumstances should anyone be put at risk as a result of responding to the incident.

All those involved in this plan must follow the instructions and advice of the emergency services.

KEY ACTIONS

- Gather as much information about the situation as possible (ETHANE).

Exact location of the emergency

Type of incident

Hazards that are present or anticipated

Access routes for emergency responders

Number of people and/or properties involved (estimate)

Emergency services or other organisations already in attendance or required (e.g. police fire, ambulance, utilities etc.)

- If the situation is life-threatening dial 999.
- Take control until the emergency services arrive.
- Instruct everyone to follow the advice of the emergency services.
- At all times be aware of your own safety and the safety of those around you.
- Consider whether you can work safely and effectively from your current location, or whether you need to move to an alternate location (see section 3).
- Make contact with the emergency services or North Lincolnshire Council if they are involved in the incident. Inform them of the contact number and location of the Community Emergency Team.
- Arrange for local residents to be warned of any dangers by use of online means and local radio stations. Residents can register for their details to be passed to the emergency services as in need of support or in offering support as volunteers.
- Consider if it is necessary to open emergency accommodation. If so ensure there is a power supply, heat and arrange for supplies of food and drink.
- Arrange for contact to be made with the vulnerable members of community identified in Section 5 and arrange for advice / assistance to be offered.
- Arrange for the community resources / organisations identified in Section 4 to be made available as necessary.

SECTION 5: VULNERABLE PEOPLE

VULNERABLE PEOPLE WITHIN THE COMMUNITY

Generic Information – Areas with Higher than average proportions of Vulnerable Residents

SPEAK WITH PLAN ACTIVATOR FOR INFO – REMOVED FROM PUBLIC VERSION FOR SECURITY AND SAFETY REASONS

SECTION 6: THE MULTI AGENCY RESPONSE TO A MAJOR INCIDENT

Response to a typical major incident

Normally the police co-ordinate the response to major incidents. When the incident moves into the recovery phase the lead co-ordination role may pass from the police to one of the other responding organisations. It could be the council, the Environment Agency or the primary care trust.

The emergency response is built from the ground up and additional layers of management are added according to the scale of the incident.

Operational (Bronze) co-ordination.

The operational area is where the 'hands-on' work is done. Responding organisations work side by side at the scene.

An "inner cordon" for essential workers is set up around the immediate vicinity of the incident.

The police establish an outer cordon at a safe distance around the inner cordon to provide a safe area for all responders.

Tactical (Silver) co-ordination

Large emergencies are greedy on resources. To 'do the most for the most' a level of management is needed to decide on the best tactics to employ. To achieve that a multi-agency tactical (Silver) level of management is set up. All responding organisations normally send a member of staff to attend the tactical level group. It is usually based in the police mobile 'command' vehicles within the outer cordon. But sometimes it is located away from the scene (e.g. a local police station) depending on the incident.

North Lincolnshire Council is not an emergency service. It does not have a mobile control. It co-ordinates its activities from one of its offices. It uses a trained Incident Manager to co-ordinate an Emergency Control Team made up of representatives from each involved service area.

The control team:

- helps to provide a co-ordinated council response.
- allows information to be shared more efficiently
- allows requests for services to be actioned more quickly.
- allows each service area to see how the incident affects them and
- decides how best to offer assistance.

The Incident Manager needs to know what's happening at the multi-agency tactical (Silver) management group. So a Forward Liaison Officer goes to the scene to be the eyes and ears of the Incident Manager. All requests from the scene for council support are made through the Forward Liaison Officer who then speaks directly to the Incident Manager or Control Team.

The Forward Liaison Officer can:

- obtain regular position statements regarding the incident
- facilitate a swift response to a request for council services
- identify where council services can assist in the response to the incident
- assess the impact of the incident on the council and the community

The Incident Manager has access to a list of all the Parish and Town Council's that have prepared emergency plans, along with their contact details, and will make contact as soon as initial actions have been completed.

Strategic (Gold) co-ordination

Each organisation may decide to convene its own top-level strategic group.

North Lincolnshire Council has a Strategic Emergency Management Team (SEMT). Elected members provide advice to the SEMT.

To ensure there is a co-ordinated strategy across all responding organisations in the Humber area, a Strategic Co-ordination Group (SCG) is established, normally hosted and chaired by the police. They meet at a location completely detached from the scene with suitable communications and meeting facilities. For the Humber area this is normally be at Police Headquarters at Queens Gardens in Hull.

The SCG determine the multi-agency strategic issues including the management of the aftermath of the incident and the return to normality.

North Lincolnshire Council send a member of the executive to the SCG.

Regional co-ordination

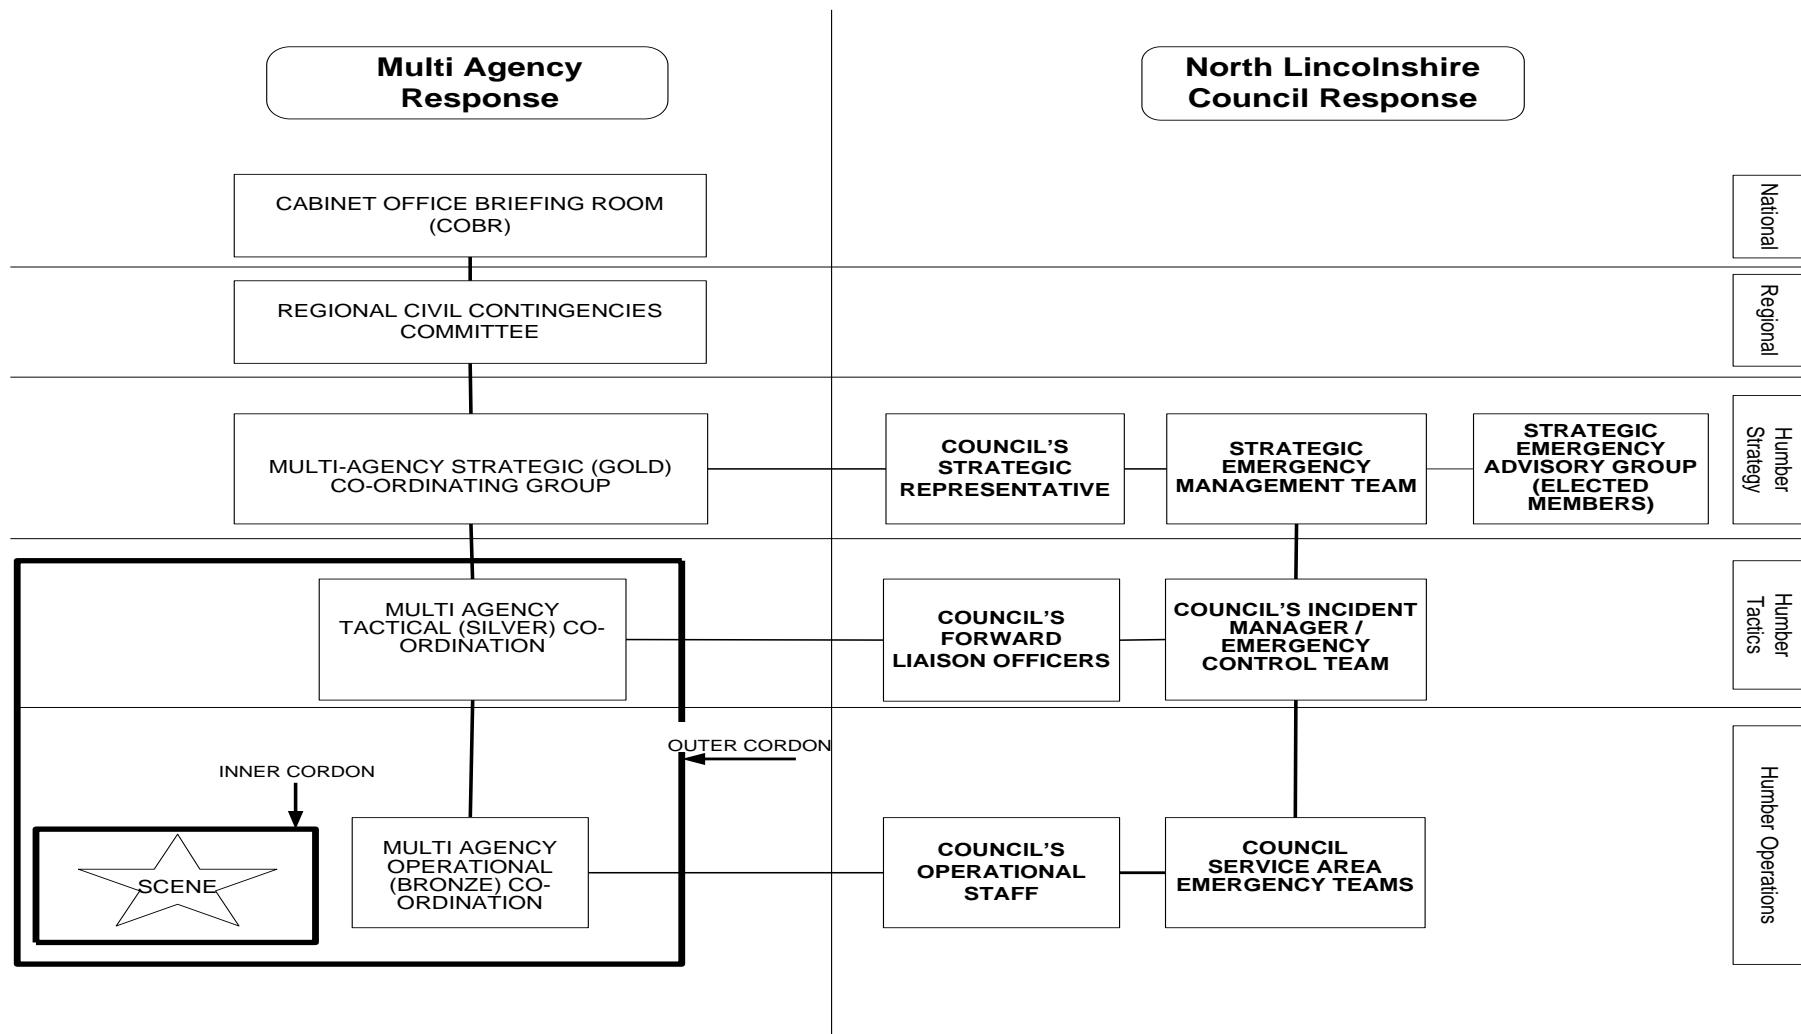

If an incident has implications for one or more Government Office regions, a Regional Civil Contingencies Committee (RCCC) may be established. They liaise with other regions and report directly to the Government.

A member of the Humber SCG would represent the Humber area on this committee.

National co-ordination

Some incidents that require national resources and co-ordination trigger central government involvement. National support is co-ordinated by the Cabinet Office Briefing Room (COBR).
